CBS News: July 28th, 2021, 2nd Whistle-blower Report

Migrant children in U.S. tent camp faced depression and filthy conditions. The complaint, the second one the Government Accountability Project has filed on behalf of federal employees who worked at Fort Bliss, substantiates previous reporting by CBS News that revealed that distressed children housed at the tent camp were constantly monitored for escape attempts, self-harm and panic attacks.

Whistleblowers reported a general lack of clothing, showers, and hygiene... leading to outbreaks COVID, strep, scabies, lice, flu, and chicken pox. The contractor had a “culture of secrecy, lacking any method to address bullying, rioting, and sexual harassment of children.” (See links below)
